

Electronic Monitoring of Curfew

Information for rangatahi

ELECTRONIC STRAP

You have been given, or you might be given a curfew with Electronic Monitoring by the Youth Court.

What Electronic Monitoring of Curfew means

- You must be at home at certain times. These are your curfew times.
- These times are decided by the court.
- You'll wear an electronic strap around your ankle all the time.

Any questions

Your social worker can help you or give you advice. If you have any problems with your electronic monitoring, get in touch with them as soon as you can. Don't wait too long – they'll help you sort it out.

How it works

SMART BEACON

1.

It tracks if you're at home during curfew.

2.

It sends a signal to the Department of Corrections if you're not home when you should be.

3.

It doesn't record photos, video, or sound.

4.

It is safe and waterproof.

What you must do

Know your curfew times.

Be home during those times.

Keep your strap on – don't mess with it.

SMART BEACON

Look after the equipment in your home. Keep it plugged in.

If you break the rules

- Your social worker will be told if you're not home during curfew or if you damage the strap. They will call or visit you.
- If you keep breaking the rules, the court might make changes to your orders and give you stricter rules.
- Stay in touch with people who can help you.
- If you need to go out during curfew (e.g. for an appointment), tell your social worker ahead of time.
- If you can't get home on time, contact your social worker or 0508 326459 and explain why.
- If there's a power cut or a problem with the equipment, let your social worker know as soon as you can, if it is after hours call 0508 326459.
- If someone at home is making it hard for you to follow the rules of your curfew, tell your social worker.
- Let your social worker know about anything else that makes it hard to follow your curfew.

Electronic Monitoring of Curfew

Information for rangatahi

PERMITTED
ONLY FOR VALID
MEDICAL REASONS

Unsuitable activities

There are activities that are not suitable for you to take part in while you are wearing a electronic strap because you may hurt yourself or others or damage the equipment:

- Swimming (salt and freshwater, spas, hydro-pools etc) is not permitted unless for verified medical reasons.
- Diving (scuba and snorkel) is not permitted .
- Contact sports, for example football, rugby, kick boxing are not permitted.

Hospital and medical visits

If you require any scans, x-rays or surgery you will need to speak to your social worker. Arrangements may be required to temporarily remove your electronic strap for the medical appointment.

If you require an aeroplane flight, you must speak to your social worker ahead of your travel to make arrangements to temporarily remove your electronic strap for the duration of the flight. They will also need to check ahead of time that the strap will work in the new location.
